

Well worth stopping in Villedieu for coffee (nice café half way down the main part of the main street on the left) – it's famous for its copper products and large bell making.

Could stop in Fougères for lunch and visit the castle, which is very imposing.

